“

This video course is very good. I now have a better understanding of the job role and the prison environment in general.

It also gave me more confidence and conviction that this job is to help other people to learn new skills and provide opportunities for a fresh start.

Our aim is to inspire students, instilling in them the belief that they can achieve their dreams. We treat each individual with inherent value and dignity, irrespective of their circumstances or the narratives others may have imposed on them.
