

Dovetail & Slate

Careers in Education

Your guide to getting into teaching and support roles within schools and colleges.

0117 422 9420

info@dovetailslate.co.uk

www.dovetailslate.co.uk

Have you thought about getting into education but don't know where to start?

We don't simply mean just learning new skills for yourself, but actually imparting your years of knowledge and experience down to the next generation.

A role in education could be the perfect fit for you

Offering a fresh challenge and a whole new world of opportunity, a career in education has the potential to be incredibly fulfilling and rewarding.

What's in it for you?

- A new career ladder to climb with on-the-job training opportunities, and recognised qualifications available across a huge variety of levels and sectors.

- Immense pride in the success of your learners and a rewarding sense of purpose unlike anything you may have experienced before.
- Personal growth, stretching your own abilities and forcing you develop interpersonal skills which so often form the basis of a successful career in education.
- Unmatched benefits- Significant pension contributions, fantastic annual leave allowances, regular working patterns and so many more wrap-around employee benefits.
- A collaborative and stable working environment, with a team of like-minded, driven individuals around you as a community to drive you forward.

What could be available to you?

Entry-Level Teacher Training

Start your career with accessible training routes and on-the-job qualifications

Specialist Teaching Positions

Teach in your subject specialism, from Care to Construction, Engineering to English

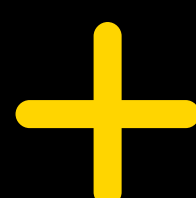

Assessor & Verifier Roles

Explore Assessor and Verifier opportunities with training and ongoing CPD

Support Roles in Education

Pursue key positions for experienced individuals in education support teams, such as HR, Finance, Marketing and more

And so Much More!

Your skills and experience can make a difference

What do you have to offer?

- Real world experience, the likes of which is so often missing from a classroom.
- A significant positive impact. Impressionable, talented young people need role models like you to spark their ambition, igniting their love for an industry they may never have otherwise considered, fuelling a career for life.
- The ability to really put yourself in the shoes of the learners who are newly embarking on a career path you yourself have lived.
- Up to date information on industry regulations, and links to key industry contacts able to offer your pupils entry into the workforce.

Dive deeper into our comprehensive guides to discover how to get started in each sector

Whether you're looking to teach or support, we've got the info, tools and resources to help you find the right path to a career in education! Visit our Resource Hub to get FREE access to our guides on getting into careers in the following:

Ready to get started?

We have plenty of resources to help you secure your dream role! Access them for FREE at our Resource Hub.